DAVIS THEATRE.

Big Comedy Bill Today.

As good a bill as anyone could wish today with comedy the predominant feature. DeVoy-Faber and company in the comedy playlet, "His Prize Package," is one big scream from The bill which provided for the apbeginning to end. Not a dull moment all through the sketch. Sing Fong Lee, the worlds greatest Chinese violinist and murorist has proved a big from each county, which was passed favorite in the funny way he tells in the senate, was adopted in the stories and his violin solos have re-ceived big applause at every perform- cering the payment of salaries and ceived big applause at every performance. Col. Mack and company have have a Western comedy act with some good rifle shooting in it and make a big hit. Colonel Mack is a big fellow, seven feet tall and the company are two little fellows which makes a funny contrast. Special scenery and effects with thm lend a Western atmosphere to the sketch. Fabre and Walters do a neat singing and talking and dancing act that is very pleasing and made a good impression with the audiences at every performance. The photo plays include a two reel dramatic feature. The Marble Heart. The others are composed of Western and comedy photo plays.

high grade motion pictures at the Breed today, beginning with the won-derful Pathe Weekly, No. 22. This as usual is thoroughly up-to-date, and all the latest events of two worlds are accurately presented in it. Tenderfoot's Money," Biograph, is one of those faithfully and artistically presented Western stories for which this company is famous and the Vita-

"Groundless Suspicion," a stirring story of the domestic side of life, by the Edison company tells a story that is as interesting as it is unusual and the comedy is supplied by two screaming numbers entitled "Hattie's New Hat," and "She Must be Ugly."

All-Round Pleasing Show at the Auditorium.

Every item on the programme at the Auditorium the first half of this week is one of merit and much favorable comment was heard about the general excellence of the bill.

The two reel feature Imp photoplay, "The Leader of His Flock," is a fine production, and the plot is logical, which with the exceptional acting of the favorite actor, King Baggott, makes this a photoplay that will be remembered. Today is the last chance to see this fine film. Parise the pianoaccordeonist, opens the vaudeville part of the show with some lively and melodrama tunes on this harminious instrument, and he is followed by Virgil Holmes and Marjorie Reilly, the society vocalists, and they surely can sing, Miss Reilly has one of the strongest and sweetest voices ever heard in Norwich vaudeville, while her partner, Mr. Holmes, is the possessor of a fine baritorne, the two voices harmonize beautifully. old favoritees Ford and Hyde are here for a return engagement and they are causing as many laughs as they did before, their comedy the "Stage Struck Rube" is a perfect stream of laughs. Beside the feature film there are other reels both comedy and drama and all of them pleasing. Arthur Rigby who comes tomorrow, is the highest priced performer that has ever appeared in vaudeville in this city, with no exceptions, to here him is to laugh.

LEGISLATIVE LORE

An act concerning approval of stock and bond issues of public service cor-porations was the first matter of the order of the day. It came to the house with an unfavorable majority report and favorable minority report of the committee on incorporations. Mr. Lockwood of Stamford made a most admirable speech in favor of the bill and explained that it provided that no the call to become pastor public service corporation can com-bine or merge with any other corporation, or issue stocks or bonds, without the approval of the utilities commission, and without taking away any legislative rights. Mr. Ryce of West Hartford spoke in opposition and did not believe in giving to the utilities ed by Rev. Charles Kelly of New Hacommission the legislative powers that were contained in the bill. Mr. Wilson of Bridgeport favored the bill, though their battles for freedom. it was not drastic enough to suit him, but would serve to protect the interests to widows and orphans who had some money invested in these corpora-

Mr. Avery of Groton said the passage of the bill would not add to the utilities commission's power in regard to rates and he said there was not a single instance where the commission reduced rates for the public good. He said corporations must get into the money market at the opportune time and should not be required to have equipped with a Modern Gas Range, consultation with the utilities commission. The public has no special interest as to how the corporations get the money, but are interested in its expenditure for the public convenience. Mr. Avery did not consider the mem-bers of the commission any more competent than the legislature or officers of these corporations. Not good faith on part of state to take from these corporations what has previously been granted in charters. He did not consider the directors of corporations a pand of thieves, no more than he considered individuals who go into bankruptcy rogues. All matters considered he was opposed to the bill at the pres-en time. ir Healey of Windsor Locks also opposed the bill and declared he did not take great stock in the judgment of the utilities commission, and the want the powers of the commission increased. The bill is crude in its makeup and he was opposed to its princi-

Mr. Kirchberger of Morris said that there was no more nutritive food than Ryce and nothing better for the nerves than Wilson, and while the members were full of both was a time for action. He moved the previous question, ed by a vote of 124 to 67. A motion to reconsider was lost.

Mr. Hall made motion, which prevalled, that the rules be suspended and that during the balance of the session that matters acted upon in the house be immediately transmitted to the senate, waiving the rule that required tabling of measures one day for recon-

The parole bill that gave discretion to the board of pardens to parole life prisoners after 25 years' confinement. which was passed in the house, was rejected by the senate on Tuesday.

The report of the committee on incorporations on the act amending the charter of the Union Electric Light and Power company was accepted and the bill passed without debate. The next matter in the order of the day was an act concerning increase stock of the New Haven Gas Light company, also of the capital stock of the Stamford Gas and Electric company, of the Derby Gas company, of the Birmingham Water company, and the Middletown Gas company, all of which passed. Mr. Wilson spoke against the New Haven proposition, stating that an increase of capital to see is on at this popular play house was asked from $5,000,000 to $10,000,- > expenses of the commission of fishery and game from the proceeds of hunters' licenses was killed.

The act passed in the house in concurrence with the senate, amending the charter of the city of New Haven, providing for the appointment of two judges of the city court and the abolishment of the office of assistant judge, created considerable discussion. It was opposed by Mr. Pardee and favored by Mr. Bree, both democrats, of New Haven. The result will be the appointment of Mr. O'Meara, democrat, and Mr. Root, republican, to the judgeships, and perhaps a division of the court patronage.

Mr. Landon of Old Saybrook called from the table an act to remove the state bounty on foxes, skunks, etc. He said it was time to repeal the act, as it was taken advantage of by resi-There is a distinctly varied bill of dents of other states. The bill does not prohibit the towns from paying bounty. The bill was passed.

There was disagreeing action in regard to the act relating to the wearing of hatpins with exposed points. The bill was rejected in the senate and passed in the house. At Tuesday's session the house voted to insist, and called for a committee of conference graph is to the front with "Playing Wr. Sedgewick of Litchfield and Mr. Sedgewick of Litchfield and Mr. the moth and the flame.

Called for a committee of conference.

Mr. Sedgewick of Litchfield and Mr. Barnum of Kent were appointed on the committee.

> The act concerning the licensing of horseshoers, that carried appointment of a commission, whose duties would be similar to the barbers' commission, was taken from the table in the house Tuesday, and freely discussed. Mr. Kirchberger of Orange said there was no more need for such a law than there was need for a cat to have two tails. He moved indefinite postponement, which prevailed, and motion to reconder was lost.

POETRY

A MENDER OF MEN.

Always he was the dullard—always he Failed of the guick grasp and the flaming word,
That still he longed for, Always other Outran him for the prize, till in him Black presage of defeat, and blacker doubts doubts
Of love and wisdom regnant; and he styled
Himself disciple of the obvious,
Predestined failure, blundering fool!
and smiled.

But with the smile went heartbreak.

Then one day
A little lad crept wailing to his knee,
Clasping a broken toy. "I slipped and fell And broke it. Make another one for me."
Whereat the answer: "I am but a fool,
I can make nothing." "You can mend it then."
"At least I'll try." And patiently and slow
He wrought until the toy was whole
